

Today's strategic environment is marked by volatility, uncertainty, complexity, and ambiguity (VUCA)

We now live in times of massively accelerating change in social, business and economic spaces, making the decision landscape far more complex and volatile!

- Are you keeping pace with this accelerating rate of change?
- Is volatility and uncertainty undermining your decision making?
- Would you like to learn new powerful techniques? And come away with practical tools underpinned by the latest research findings?

Who is this training for?

This training is for senior leadership, coaches and mentors within organisations and businesses who are charged with the challenge and responsibility of making sound strategic and business decisions that affect the viability and profitability of the enterprise.

Learn to use all three of your brains and intuitive intelligences to make wiser and more effective decisions. Business today cannot afford to be mired in old-world thinking and outmoded decision strategies.

2 Day Science Based Experiential Executive Workshop

Use Your Multiple Brains for Wiser Leadership and Decision Making

Do you have to make important strategic and wide ranging decisions in your business or organization?

Would you like to gain a reputation for making wiser decisions, even when there isn't a lot of data to base them on?

Would you like to save your company from making expensive, short sighted or poor decisions?

There is a growing body of leadership literature showing how the world's best companies are guided by leaders who can tap into the intelligence of their head, heart and gut brains, and who in particular are able to lead using the core skills of Compassion, Creativity and Courage. Our work has shown that these three competencies are indeed expressed and mediated through the three brains.

A new field of leadership development is emerging, known as mBIT (multiple Brain Integration Techniques) providing organizational leaders with practical methods for aligning and integrating their Head, Heart and Gut brains or intelligences for increased levels of wisdom in decision-making.

The latest neuroscience research has shown that you have three brains validating ancient wisdom teachings and practises. Discover how to harness these innate intelligences and generative wisdom of your multiple brains through the process of 'mBraining'.

Do you find yourself or your team struggling with:

Making wise decisions in a volatile climate?

Uncertainty and insecurity?

Adapting quickly to complex situations?

Stress and burnout?

In the workshop you will discover how to:

- Bring wisdom to leadership decisions

Save your company money from bad decision making – potentially, hundreds of thousands of dollars

- Lead complex emergent change

Deal with the most complex and difficult situations as they arise with a sense of calm and certainty

- Gain clarity, confidence and trust in your decision making

- Bypass your mind biases - your blind spots

Benefit from each and every situation you use this process with, either way you win!

TESTIMONIALS

"The mBIT Leadership Decision Making workshop is an exciting and innovative integration of research and practical application of Head, Heart, Gut in decision making. The sharing of the Research being done in this arena validates what many of us have felt intuitively when doing this work."

Patti Gwynne PCC (ICF) Business/Executive Coach, New Zealand

"As a leader, I have experienced and I hear other leaders saying it too, 'I am making it up as I go along, after all these years I am faking it till I make it' (even though everyone is telling you that you have made it). This workshop helped me deeply understand myself more which is the key to leader-ship and therefore gave me the confidence not to doubt my decision- making process. I now have tools I can carry with me every day to guide me with the 'hard-ass' decisions that we as leaders have to make. The very next day I responded to staff in a way that felt more me than it ever has and got great results."
